

FINANCIAL COUNSELING

Goodfellow's Airman and Family Readiness Center (A&FRC) has five staff members who are certified financial counselors. They are certified by the Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education. Our counselors are available for one-to-one counseling setting for guidance on your budget, savings, TSP/retirement plans, auto purchase, off-base move, relocation planning, marriage, new baby, credit issues, emergency assistance, and more. Feel free to bring a list of any money related questions you have. Learn what it means to practice good "personal finance." Contact (325) 654-3893 for an appointment.

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE

Emergency assistance usually combines an assessment of the emergency situation and an evaluation of the personal budget to arrive at a decision to make an interest free loan, a grant, or combination of both. Financial assistance is given when a qualifying individual cannot otherwise pay for specific basic needs essential to continued personal effectiveness as a military member. Funds may be given for verifiable emergency situations including food, emergency travel, vehicle repair, rent (initial rent and security deposit or eviction), and the prevention of utility disconnection. The three military relief societies provide assistance through the Goodfellow AFB Airman and Family Readiness Center.
